The Chinese Studies Collection Library Endowment

The Chinese Studies Collection provides resources to meet the research and curricular needs of the scholarly community at the University of Florida. The Collection goes beyond the fields of language and literature; it also serves students and faculty in other academic disciplines.

The Chinese Studies Collection Endowment will ensure ongoing maintenance and growth of the Chinese Studies Collections so that it will be recognized at national and international levels, and will also enhance library resources to support teaching and research at the University of Florida.

We invite you to make a gift to the Chinese Studies Collection Library Endowment. Your gift to the endowment to commemorate a significant life event and special occasion will help promote academic excellence in the area of Chinese Studies, and to build one of the best and largest Chinese Studies Collections in the Southeast region. Your generosity sets an excellent example for other alumni and friends by endorsing the libraries' vital role on campus.
