JOB SUMMARY:
The Humanities and Social Sciences Department (Library West) at the University of Florida’s George A. Smathers Libraries seeks a creative and service-oriented reference and collection management librarian for the psychology and sociology subject areas. This position will provide reference assistance, instruction, outreach and collection management to support the academic programs in these subject areas. The primary focus will be on the department of Psychology and the department of Sociology and Criminology & Law. The Psychology/Sociology Librarian will work closely with faculty and students, the Humanities and Social Sciences Collections Coordinator, other librarians selecting social science materials, and technical services librarians to improve library services for users. A key element of the assignment is the use of new technology to access and deliver information to library users. The librarian will work collaboratively on group efforts and maintain close professional relationships with faculty, students and colleagues. The library encourages staff participation in reaching management decisions and consequently the Psychology/Sociology Librarian will serve on various committees and teams. The incumbent will pursue professional development opportunities, including research, publication, and professional association activities, to meet library-wide criteria for tenure and promotion.

RESPONSIBILITIES:
1. Provides traditional and electronic reference services for faculty, students and staff of the University of Florida, primarily in the areas of psychology and sociology. Participates in the provision of general research assistance at the Library West service desks, local and statewide reference chat, and email reference services. Assists Library West patrons with the Information Commons computer workstations, scanners and other media technology. Provides specialized reference services for faculty, graduate students and scholars in the fields of psychology and sociology by referral and appointment.

2. Participates in the humanities and social sciences collection management program, specifically psychology and sociology. Selects and evaluates subject-based materials and works with faculty in selecting materials to support their academic and research programs, keeping abreast of new curricular developments and research interests. Coordinates selection activities with selectors in Library West, the Education Library and the Health Sciences Center Library, to ensure a unified collection development effort for Psychology and Sociology.

3. Participates actively in the development, selection and evaluation of web resources for subject guides and other user services.

4. Develops and maintains web-based tutorials, videos, and multimedia projects related to psychology and sociology information sources.

5. Participates in instruction programs using traditional classroom methods as well as emerging educational technologies.

6. Participates in planning, policy formation and departmental decision making related to Library West services, collections and new technologies.

7. Participates in appropriate professional library organizations on the state, regional and national levels. Pursues professional development goals, including publication.

8. Participates in fund raising activities and other appropriate library development efforts.

QUALIFICATIONS:

Required:

1. Masters degree in library science from an ALA accredited library school; equivalent advanced degree in library studies, information science, or science education; or an advanced degree in Psychology, Sociology, or a relevant Social Sciences discipline

2. Undergraduate or Master’s degree in Psychology, Sociology or Social Sciences or extensive work experience in one of these subject areas.

3. Knowledge of psychology and sociology information resources.

4. Excellent verbal and written communication skills.

5. Ability to work effectively in a team and individually with faculty, staff and students.

6. Initiative, flexibility, and the ability to adapt and work creatively in a complex, rapidly changing academic environment.

7. Demonstrated knowledge of and enthusiasm for the integration of new technologies into the delivery of information services.

8. Proficient in the design and creation of web pages and web based materials.

9. Strong commitment to user-focused service.

10. Excellent presentation and organizational skills.

11. Strong potential for meeting the requirements of tenure and promotion.

Preferred:

1. Advanced degree in psychology, sociology or related field.

2. Work experience in a library with extensive Social Sciences materials.

3. Experience in collection management.

4. Experience with/demonstrated enthusiasm for instruction.

5. Experience in evaluating print and online resources.
